

IB DP Geography – Option E – Leisure, Sport & Tourism – Revision Clock (2 sides)

11 – The consequences of unsustainable touristic growth in rural and urban tourism hotspots

1 - The growth and changing purpose of leisure time for societies in different geographic and developmental contexts

2 - Detailed examples to illustrate recent changes in participation for two or more societies at contrasting stages of development

10 - Political, economic and cultural factors affecting the hosting of international sporting events

3 - Factors affecting personal participation in sports and tourism, including affluence, gender, stage in lifecycle, personality, place of residence

9 - The role of TNCs in expanding international tourism destinations

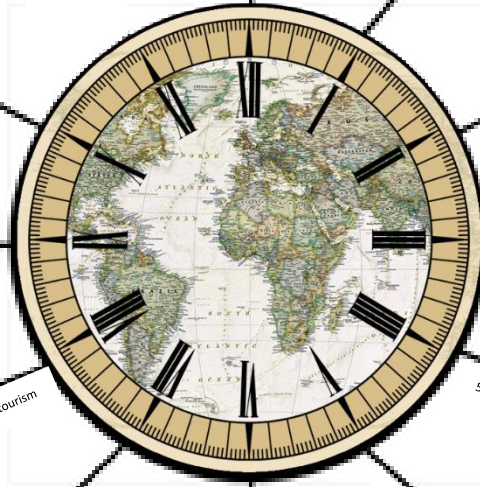

4 - Human and physical factors explaining the growth of rural and urban tourism hotspots including the role of primary and secondary touristic resources

8 - Niche national tourism strategies with a global sphere of influence, including adventure tourism, movie location tourism & heritage tourism

5 - Variations in sphere of influence for different kinds of sporting and touristic facility

7 - Case study of one festival in a rural location, its site factors and geographic impacts.

6 - Case study of one national sports league – Ligue 1 France [Hierarchy & Residence of supporters]

12 - The concept of sustainable tourism, including the growth of ecotourism

13 - Factors influencing future international tourism, including greater use of social media, international security and diaspora growth

14 - The growing importance of political and cultural influences on international sport participation - international agreements

15 - The growing importance of political and cultural influences on international sport participation – changing gender roles

16 - The growing importance of political and cultural influences on international sport participation – Paralympics

